

Current Course Code and Title	MAS728 Topics in Probability and Statistics II
Details of Course	Summary of course content -
	Aims and objectives Prepare students for independent research in the area of Statistics.
	Syllabus Topics in Statistics will be covered to provide background knowledge necessary to conduct independent research in the area, e.g. topics from Survival Analysis Theory and Method, Computational Statistics, Time Series Analysis, Statistical Learning etc.
Assessment Please specify if components are individually assessed or group assessed	Exams: 50% Continuous Assessment: 50%
	Total: 100 %
Hours of Contact/Academic Units	52 hours (Consists of 3 hours lectures and 1 hour tutorial weekly) / 4 AU
Instructor and Co-instructor (if any)	-
Class size	-
Academic Year and Semester/Trimester	-