

Founder, Hamerkop Climate Impacts

Olivier Levallois is the founder of independent and technical carbon market advisory firm Hamerkop Climate Impacts as well a senior director at climate-tech Chooose. He has been helping hundreds of project developers, climate funds, governments, NGOs and corporates navigating and benefiting from the compliance and voluntary carbon markets since 2009. He has been involved in each market segment of these markets: from origination, deal structuration, certification, intermediation, project implementation, and sale of carbon assets and has been involved in over 200 transactions.

Prior to setting up HAMERKOP, Mr Levallois served as the head of carbon and climate finance at EcoAct UK and as a member of the Executive Committee of the International Carbon Reduction and Offset Alliance (ICROA), the main voluntary carbon market industry association. Between 2013 and 2018, Mr Levallois lectured at the world first carbon market dedicated MSc, at the University of Edinburgh.

Mr Levallois received his MSc degree from the London School of Economics and Political Science. He is now based in Singapore and is a member of Singapore Sustainable Finance Association's carbon market working group.
